ABOUT OUR CLINICIANS

Josh Ortmann

Head Boys Basketball Coach at Buffalo
2 Conference Championships
1 Section Championship
154 Career wins

"Our youth basketball program is the backbone of our basketball program. It's the foundation to what we do and is arguably more important than any other aspect of our basketball program."

- Josh Ortmann

Joe Madson

Former Head Boys Basketball Coach at Mankato East
7 Conference Championships
9 Section Championships
450 Career wins

"Good youth coaches are vital to a successful high school program. They keys early that help programs have success are that youth coaches have taught players to share the ball which helps in the development of multiple good players per grade level. Positive coaches who can correctly point out errors and correct mistakes makes all the difference. Development and not necessarily wins should be the top goal."

- Joe Madson

Wendy Kohler

Former Head Girls Basketball Coach at Alexandria
17 Conference Championships
14 Section Championships
1 State Championship
728 Career wins (winningest female coach in MN history)

"A well-structured youth program is the pillar and foundation of a successful program prioritizing fundamental skill development and fostering personal growth for the young athletes to thrive in basketball, and also to cultivate well rounded young people. Life skills such as confidence, teamwork, work ethic, discipline, perseverance are important intangibles for the DNA and culture of your program."

- Wendy Kohler

John Oxton

Former Head Boys Basketball Coach at Lakeville North
3 Conference Championships
13 Section Championships
2 State Championships
706 Career wins

"A great youth basketball program builds far more than basketball skills. It develops confidence, character, teamwork, and lifelong friendships that extend beyond the court."

- John Oxton
